Manager's Report

Stock Market Review

Commencing the financial year under review at 413.43 points, global equity markets, as proxied by the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World Index, firmed in December 2016 amid expectations of an improved U.S. economic outlook.

In January 2017, the MSCI World Index moved higher, led by gains in the Hong Kong and China markets, as solid macroeconomic data provided support to equities. The Index rose further in February 2017 after President Trump promised to release a tax reform plan in the near term.

Led by reduced political uncertainty following the market-friendly outcome of the French presidential election, coupled with strong U.S. corporate earnings, the Index moved higher from March through May 2017 before trading range-bound in June 2017 amid broad-based weakness in technology stocks.

The Index continued its climb in July and August 2017 on better-than-expected U.S. corporate earnings and economic data before edging higher in September 2017 amid easing geopolitical tensions in the Korean peninsula. The Index subsequently surged to new record highs in October and November 2017 on renewed optimism over the U.S. tax reform policy, as both chambers of the Congress passed their respective versions of the tax reform plan.

The MSCI World Index closed at 505.44 points in November 2017 to register an increase of 22.26% (+11.95% in Ringgit terms) for the financial year under review.

Global markets, namely the Germany, Netherlands, France, Japan, U.S., Great Britain and Australia markets registered returns of +25.99%, +21.59%, +20.79%, +13.71%, +10.26%, +7.15% and +3.24% (in Ringgit terms) respectively for the financial year under review.

Money Market Review

The Overnight Rate commenced the financial year under review at 2.99% and ranged between 2.90% and 3.00% over the 12-month period, before ending the financial year under review unchanged at 2.99%.

Manager's Report

Economic Review

Led by higher investment spending and export growth, U.S. GDP growth rose from 1.5% in 2016 to 2.2% in the first three quarters of 2017. Investment spending increased by 3.1% in the first three quarters of 2017 compared to a contraction of 1.6% in 2016 due to higher investment in equipment. Meanwhile, exports expanded by 2.9% compared to a decline of 0.3% over the same period.

At the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting on 31 October – 1 November 2017, the Federal Reserve maintained the Federal funds rate target range at 1.00%-1.25%.

After declining to 4.1% in October 2017 from 4.9% in 2016, the Federal Reserve projects the unemployment rate to be sustained at 4.2%-4.3% by the end of 2017. The U.S. Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) inflation rate of 1.5% in the first 10 months of 2017 remained below the Federal Reserve's target of 2.0%. Meanwhile, the Institute for Supply Management's manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) rose to an average of 57.3 points in the first 10 months of 2017 from 51.5 points in 2016 amid higher new orders and production levels.

Eurozone GDP growth gained pace from 1.8% in 2016 to 2.3% in the first three quarters of 2017 on the back of higher growth in Germany and France. At its monetary policy meeting on 26 October 2017, the European Central Bank (ECB) kept its main refinancing and deposit rates at 0.00% and -0.40% respectively. The ECB has extended its quantitative-easing program from January 2018 until September 2018 or beyond, if necessary. However, it will reduce the monthly pace of bond-buying from €60 billion to €30 billion with effect from January 2018.

In a referendum held on 23 June 2016, British voters voted in favour of exiting the European Union (EU). The United Kingdom (UK) formally notified of its exit from the EU under Article 50 on 29 March 2017, which commences a 2-year process of trade negotiations with the EU.

Japan's GDP growth gained pace from 1.0% in 2016 to 1.5% in the first three quarters of 2017 amid higher investment spending and export growth. Led by higher transportation costs, the inflation rate turned positive at +0.4% in the first 10 months of 2017 compared to -0.1% in 2016. To support economic growth and mitigate deflationary pressures, the Bank of Japan left its interest rate unchanged at -0.1%.

Down under, Australia's GDP growth eased from 2.5% in 2016 to 1.8% in 1H 2017 due to moderating consumer spending and export growth. Driven by higher housing and transportation costs, Australia's inflation rate rose to 2.0% in the first three quarters of 2017 from 1.3% in 2016. To support domestic demand, the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) maintained its cash rate at 1.50%.

Manager's Report

Outlook and Investment Strategy

After trading on a mixed note in 1H 2016, global and regional markets strengthened in 2H 2016 amid an improved outlook for the U.S. and global economies. Global and regional equity markets continued to trend higher in the first 11 months of 2017 on expectations that the global economy would grow at a resilient pace. Looking ahead, the performance of the equity markets will depend on the economic growth momentum and market valuations of the U.S., Europe and the Asia Pacific region.

U.S. economic growth is projected to edge up from 2.2% in 2017 to 2.5% in 2018, driven by higher investment spending.

In the Eurozone, economic growth is envisaged to ease from 2.2% in 2017 to 1.9% in 2018 on expectations of slower export growth.

Down under, Australia's economic growth is expected to rise from 2.3% in 2017 to 2.8% in 2018 due to higher investment spending. The financial and insurance services sector should maintain its current growth trajectory as low interest rates continue to underpin housing demand.

Japan's economic growth is projected to moderate from 1.5% in 2017 to 1.2% in 2018 on the back of slower consumer spending and export growth.

Among the regional markets, North Asian markets were generally trading at discounts to their historical averages following their respective performances over the same period.

Among the developed markets, the U.S. market was trading at a prospective P/E ratio of 19.8x, higher than its 20-year average of 17.3x. Meanwhile, the European market was trading at a prospective P/E ratio of 15.9x, which was above its 20-year average of 13.9x.

Given the above factors, the Fund will continue to rebalance its investment portfolio accordingly with the objective of achieving capital growth over the medium to long-term period by investing in global markets.
