KEY RISKS

What are the key risks associated with this product?

Market risk	Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors, which will result in a decline in the fund's NAV.
Specific Shariah-compliant security risk	Prices of a particular Shariah-compliant security may fluctuate in response to the circumstances affecting individual companies. As such, adverse price movements of a particular Shariah-compliant security invested by the fund may adversely affect the fund's NAV and unit price.
Interest rate risk	Interest rate risk refers to the impact of interest rate changes on the valuation of sukuk, Islamic money market instruments and Islamic deposits. When interest rates rise, prices of sukuk generally decline and this may lower the market value of the fund's investment in sukuk. The reverse applies when interest rates fall. The returns of the fund's investments in Islamic money market instruments and Islamic deposits move in tandem with interest rates. A decline in interest rates will lower the returns of the fund's investments in Islamic money market instruments and Islamic deposits. For example, when interest rates fall, Islamic deposit placements would be reinvested at lower interest rates and subsequently yield lower returns to the fund.
Credit risk	Credit risk relates to the creditworthiness of the issuer of the sukuk or Islamic money market instruments and Islamic deposits which is dependent on the issuer's ability to make timely payments of profit or principal. In the event that the issuer of a sukuk or Islamic money market instruments and Islamic deposits defaults in the payment of profit and/or principal, the value of the fund may be adversely affected.
Liquidity risk	Liquidity risk refers to the ease of liquidating an asset depending on the asset's volume traded in the market. If the fund holds assets that are illiquid, or are difficult to dispose of, the value of the fund will be negatively affected when it has to sell such assets at unfavourable prices.
Currency risk	If the fund invests in assets denominated in foreign currency, the fund may be exposed to currency fluctuation risks. If the currencies in which the investments are denominated depreciate against the local currency, the fund's NAV may be adversely affected and vice versa. To mitigate such risk, the fund may undertake hedging strategies. However, the fund would not benefit from any potential upside if currencies move in the opposite direction of the hedging strategy.

PIATAF

What are the key risks associated with this product? (cont'd)

Country risk	Investments of the fund in any country may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the country in which the fund invests in. For example, the deteriorating economic condition of such countries may adversely affect the value of the investments undertaken by the fund in those affected countries. This in turn may cause the NAV of the fund or prices of units to fall.
Risk of non-compliance with Shariah requirements	This risk refers to the risk that the currently held Shariah-compliant shares in the fund may be reclassified as Shariah non-compliant in the periodic review of the shares by the Shariah Advisory Council of the Securities Commission Malaysia, the Shariah Adviser or the Shariah boards of the relevant Islamic indices. If this occurs, the Manager will take the necessary steps to dispose such shares. There may be opportunity loss to the fund due to the fund not being allowed to retain the excess capital gains derived from the disposal of the Shariah non-compliant shares. The value of the fund may also be adversely affected in the event of a disposal of Shariah non-compliant shares at a price lower than the investment cost.

You are advised to read the fund's prospectus and understand the risks involved and, if necessary, consult your professional adviser(s) before investing.

Notes:

* The figure shown is for the period since the fund's (formerly known as Public Islamic Asia Balanced Fund (PIABF)) commencement (12 December 2011). Upon the issuance of its supplementary prospectus on 12 December 2011, PIABF adopted its new name of Public Islamic Asia Tactical Allocation Fund (PIATAF) to reflect the change in the fund's objective, investment policy, investment strategy and benchmark.

 Prior to 1 January 2009, the fund's benchmark was a composite index of 60% Dow Jones Islamic Market Asia Ex-Japan IndexSM and 40% 3-Month Islamic Interbank Money Market (IIMM) rate.

Effective from 1 January 2009, the fund's equity benchmark was replaced with the S&P Shariah BMI Asia Ex-Japan Index as this index has a broader stock coverage in the regional markets.

Effective from 12 December 2011, the fund's benchmark has been replaced with a composite index of 70% S&P Shariah BMI Asia Ex-Japan Index and 30% 3-Month IIMM rate as it is more reflective of the new investment strategy of the fund.

The calculation of the above returns is based on NAV-to-NAV basis, and is sourced from Lipper.

Average annual returns of the fund are derived by dividing the total returns of the fund with the number of years under review.

Commencement date is the last day of the initial offer period.
